ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Dr. GAYATHRI THEVI SELVARAJAH DVM, PhD

Associate Professor in Small Animal Medicine (Oncology) at the Department of Veterinary Clinical Studies, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, UPM (University Putra Malaysia).

After completing her DVM from UPM, she did her Ph.D at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of University of Utrecht, Netherlands (Research Area: Canine Osteosarcoma).

As a Consultant Clinician in Veterinary Oncology at University Veterinary Hospital, UPM, she receives referral cases in oncology from veterinarians all over Malaysia. She is also a Guest Lecturer at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University Malaysia Kelantan, Malaysia.

She is actively involved in research activities from basic fundamental in vitro and preclinical studies on cancers such as canine mammary carcinoma, prostate carcinoma and osteosarcoma and also is interested in exploring new therapeutic approaches and drug delivery modalities through active clinical trials in cancer and diseases of cats and dogs. Other areas of active research include Feline Sporotrichosis, Feline Infectious Peritonitis, Bovavirus, Feline Morbilivirus, Japanese Encephalitis Virus and Feline Hepadnavirus.

She is a member of the Veterinary Cancer Society, European Society of Veterinary Oncology (ESVONC), Veterinary Society of Surgical Oncology (VSSO), International Society of Human and Animal Mycology (ISHAM), International Society of Companion Animal Infectious Diseases (ISCAID), Malaysian Association of Veterinary Pathology (MAVP) and is the current Vice President of the Malaysian Small Animal Veterinary Association. She is actively involved in organizing CE seminars and workshops for local veterinarians in Malaysia since 2015 and has been invited to several seminars to deliver lectures nationally and internationally.
This seminar is aimed at general practitioners in small animal practice, clinicians new to practice and veterinarians who wish to refresh basic clinical and practical aspects in diagnosis and treatment of canine and feline oncology.
